

Gilwood CS join with The Virtualization Practice

Monday, 03 August 2009

Gilwood CS's director Andrew Wood has been announced as a featured analyst with The Virtualization Practice

The Virtualization Practice provides analysis, commentary, and resources on current Virtualization and Cloud Computing news, events, and community. We break Virtualization into Topics, and feature a world class expert in that topic as the analyst for the topic. Topic Analysts are responsible for writing original, objective, analytical posts in their area of expertise, for writing and maintaining a white paper on their market and the vendors that serve that market, and for assisting sponsoring vendors with marketing activities.
